THE CITY. Notice to Subscribers.

The Express will be delivered hereafter, on the route between Fourth and Tenth streets, by Henry Hargrave, to whom made to pay tribute to two States, neither payment should be made.

In Bankruptey.

Daniel Boone, of Henry county, filed a petition against himself this morning for adjudication in bankruptcy.

Skating Rink.

It is scarcely necessary to remind any one that the rink will be open to-night, for everybody in the city watches eagerly for Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights: but the hundreds of strangers in the city, looking for an evening's entertainment, are hereby notified that they cannot find a

Trouble in Lewis and Carter Counties

On Tiger creek, in the edge of Lewis and Carter counties, there lives a family named Underwood, consisting of father and nine grown sons. These parties it is said have rendered themselves a terror to make them tell their, business. The people are afraid to go near them, or lend any aid in arresting them. Major Harrington

Dead-Heads.

We have ordered our carriers to discontinue all papers that are not paid for. For If the paper is worth reading it is worth paying for. The paper costs but a few cents per week to an individual, while in the aggregate the outlay to the publisher is many hundreds of dollars. Our deadhead list has been marked out.

Not on Friday.

It was stated this morning that Mrs. Porter would enter upon her duties as postmistress on Friday next, October 1st. This is clearly impossible. She arrived this morning, but her bond is to be prepared and sent on before her commission can be issued, and the probability is, that all the preliminaries cannot be completed in time to allow her to take posession before about the 9th or 10th of the month. We can further say that we have pretty good reason to believe the removals from the postoffice will not be as sweeping

That iron came from the Hanging Rock regions of Ohio, and that ore is to go to some furnace or other in Ohio. When smelted and reduced to pig iron it will be was the iron which arrived yesterday. Why is it that the raw material is brought from a point several hundred miles west of us, carried some hundreds east of us, and there worked up into form suitable for our use? Why should we be thus of which buys a dollar's worth of produce from Louisville? If there was no ore in Kentucky, it would cost no more to smelt that Missouri ore in this Statesthan it will Pennsylvania. The counties along the upper waters of Kentucky and Cumberland rivers are full of ores, not only iron, but other minerals, and easy of access by those rivers. The produce of furnaces along Kentucky river can be floated that whole region of country. They tackle down at all seasons of the year so soon as all strangers passing along the highway and the Kentucky river improvement has been finished. Has the Board of Aldermen forgotten the ordinance subscribing $150,000 to that much-needed work? ### SACRED CONCERT.

Phillip Phillips the Vocalist.

This celebrated vocalist, who is renowned even in the musical world, will give one of his evenings of sacred song on Thursday, at Weisiger Hall. Manufacurers, mechanics, artizans, merchants, raders, carriers, express-men, steamboatmen, railroad men, clerks, laborers, lawyers, doctors, professors, teachers, landords and tenants, base ball clubs, bands music, associations of all kinds-all will join and lend their aid. It will be the grandest affair ever gotten up anywhere, and will prove to the delegates and visitor present at the Commercial Convention that Louisville has turned out en masse to well ome them. The ladies will give their nvaluable assistance, the children will help-everybody will be on hand. Louisville, New Albany, Jeffersonville, and all demonstration, and we shall have such a pageant as the world seldom sees. Push along the good work; keep up the excitement, for the time is short.

THE FASHIONS.

New Styles in Bonnets—Paris Evening Dresses.

From the New York Post.

The new bonnets are a trifle larger than those of the summer; very high on the top and with the trimming drooping backward from the center over the back hair, instead of forming a coronal, as the past season Feathers will be extensively used for fall bonnets, some having two small ones on top, with a long one curved and falling piece of lace a yard and a half long or more is attached to one side and brought around the neck, and the end drawn through falls at the side. These folds of lace lie loosely around the neck, and are becoming to a pretty face, and help to improve even a plain one.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

The fashionable colors in millinery this fall are plum color, a dark rich tint, new and elegant, in velvet; Russian green, a peculiar shade of dark green, very becomng to a blonde; and, though this shade can be worn by a brunette, yet it will add little to the charms of a dark-eyed beauty. Navy blue, a dark blue, differing from every blue that has been worn. Chestnut brown is a new and rich color, and in velvets and satins will be a favorite and much sought after; coral color is destined to be fashionable; also, both black and brown will be worn in velvets. The Nile green is a new shade, a pale delicate tint, something like the peculiar shade of sea foam when it sparkles in the sunlight. Dark velvets, as brown, black, &c., will be trimmed with brilliant, gay colors.

A rich bonnet of plum-colored velvet is trimmed with feathers and lace and a cluster of velvet leaves. This droops low on the forehead, as do most of the new connets. Nearly all of the new styles reemble more a round hat than the pretty little bonnets of the past.

A purple velvet has a reverse plaiting f purple velvet, a shade lighter than the bonnet, around the front; above this is black Chantilly lace, feathers in two shades of purple, and a long scarf at the back made of Alencon lace, rial, rich and elegant, that will be used on 'The strings are composed of plain fold of dark purple velvet, and a plaiting of a lighter shade, an entirely

In order more effect-ually to conceal his purpose, he, the even-ing before he absconded, gave his friends splendid banquet, at which all the luxuies of the Indies were displayed. While leasures of the table, he disappeared with ll the ready money and went to Europe. This last exploit undoubtedly furnished nim the large sums which he commanded n his arrival at Berlin.

His mean, bad character is illustrated by the way he tried to free himself of his wife, of whom, it seems, he became tired. She being in London, he wrote to her from Bombay, with directions to join him there, at the same time sending her money enough to pay her fare. er to be on the way, he left Bombay, hoping that the poor, helpless woman, without means and friends, would perish in the strange land. And, indeed, after her arrival there, she fell subject to the greatest distress, which was hightened by he circumstance of the reported death of her husband-a rumor started by himself for obvious reasons. At last the British consul took her case in hand and sent her back to London, where she is still living in needy circumstances.

After his times of magnificence at Berlin, Edelmann visited all the different bathing places on the continent where gambling flourished, and, after he had lost Anna Bishop, who is now rusticating up the Hudson, declares that she will sing no more in public. A stock dealer, named John T. Sayers. A stock dealer, named color ras arrested at Wellsville, Montgomery county, by Marshal McFall, of this city, county, by Marshal McFall, of this city, and Mr. B. M. Odom, who came here with a requisition from Governor Pease, of Texas, on Governor McClurg, for his rendition to that State. Sayers is charged with being in complicity with two confederates in passing a large amount of counterfeit greenbacks, and with drawing money on forged checks upon two banks at Austin, Texas. The checks were originally of small amounts, drawn in St. Louis, and were afterwards "raised" much larger sum, the signatures and dates eing allowed to remain. When the hecks were presented to the banks, they were cashed at once. In this way about $16,000 was swindled from the banks, all of which, however, has been recovered, except about $700. It appears that Sayers, after getting the checks "raised" here, went to Texas, and, being taken sick, left whom, named Piper, was arrested, and, turning State's evidence, "blowed" on his accomplices. Piper, it is said, was a young man, and formerly worked for Sayers in Calloway county, Missouri. About $30,000 in counterfeit bills and a pocket full of "raised" drafts were found on the men. The drafts were "raised" from $20 to $5,000 and $10,000. Mr. Odom, vho was a large stock drover, was used by yers' confederates to introduce them to he banks: and therefore his interest in erreting out-the parties to the plot and

A letter was directed to Sayers, request ng him to come to Wellsville, which he did, not suspecting a plan for his capture. He there was taken into custody by the gentleman above named.

of an armed counter revolution. There was an insurrectionary demonstration made by the volunteer troops in Barcelona last night. It was occasioned by the receipt of the government order commanding the volunteer troops to disarm. An attempt on the part of the local authorities to enforce it, and the fact that the volunteers of Tarragona, who refused to disarm previously, were suffering imprisonment for the offense, was made cause for the additional attempt.

THE INSURGENTS OVERPOWERED. In a short time five barricades, one built by cartmen's barricade was assaulted by the regular troops and carried by a bayonet charge after a very desperate resistance on the part of its defenders and a heavy loss of life.

THE GOLD PANIC.

Talk of gambling at faro, keno, rouge et nor, or in any other professional way! Wby, Wall street gambling in gold and stocks beats all in recklessness and viciousness. The excitement on the street yesterday showed the desperate means to which the gold and stock gamblers will resort to pluck the unwary, the merchants, and even their own fraternity. A few of them, and respectable business men they claim to be, enter into a combination to buy up all the gold that could be got at for the purpose of cornering those who had contracts to fulfil, and thus send up the price. They succeeded; for gold ran up in the morning to 165, being over twenty per cent. higher than sailed for America Saturas, and England to preserve peace and check the contagion of revolution in France in case of the Emperor's careth but not to thwart the German Union.

The Daily News to-day reports that the object of Lord Clarendon's visit to Pars was to anounce to Napoieon an arrangement between Austria, Prussia, Russia, and England to preserve peace and check the contagion of revolution in France in case of the Emperor's rivals, the merchants and the public, were caught and ruined by another set of gamblers. The details of this diamond cut diamond business of the Contagion of the Conta The details of this diamond cut diamond business we give in another column. As to these bulls and bears, or sharpers and sharks, of The Times of to-day, in an article on the cotton question, says: If cotton is dear with its in reased production because of new spinning countries bidding against us, then the Liverpool quotations are unintelligible. If spinners rot only carry off the raw material but curtail the demands of our manufactures, the cette of trede is winvelligible also On.

We are naturally led to inquire here whether there is any remedy for this gold gambling evil. Are the business men and public in their transactions to be at the mercy of a few men in Wall street? Is the value of every-thing, to the extent of hundreds of thousands of millions of property, to be regulated by a few millions of gold, more or less, in the hands of these men? Such a monstrous anom-aly—such an inconsistency—cannot be found in the financial afairs of any country. There in the financial affairs of any country. There is something radically wrong in our monetary system when such a state of things can exist. system when such a state of things can exist. To talk of reaching specie payments, or of maintaining them if reached, when the locking up of a few millions of gold can produce such results as we have seen to-day, is simply absurd. This is a question that demands the earnest attention of Congress. The demand for specie to pay duties gives all the vitality to gold gambling, and places the merchants at the mercy of the gamblers.

of October. Unlike other gatherings, which have simply reflected individual opinion, we shall have in this the reflex of the whole United States by authority.

All of the States will probably have full delegations holding the commissions of the Gover-nors and acting in behalf of the people, for whom they are thus entitled to speak. The Peace Corgress of 1861 at Washington, which sought to avert the war, was composed of delegates appointed in like manner by the Governors, the cities also appointing their best men. The Philadelphia papers (noticing the pre-eminent character of the New York appointments) have been filled with urgent appeals that Penn-sylvania should select her best men. In consequence the Philadelphia representatives, eighty in number, will be carefully selected this week. New York city will send over one hundred. The acceptances and notices by delegates that they are coming are pouring 'n every day.

This assemblage is a national one, and no se tional interests are to be subserved. True, we propose to consider Southern questions, but not in the sense of past sectional conventions. What we do, will be simply to urge the adoption of such measures and such future policy that shall benefit the whole country. We wish no advantages which may result in detriment to Northern interests.

GOLLADAY'S DRAWING. A Scene of Enthusiasm and Excitement at Weisiger Hall Last Night.

THE LUCKY NUMBERS.

The regular monthly drawing of Golladay's lottery, for the benefit of the blind, took place at Weisiger Hall last evening. The large hall was densely crowded by an excited audience of ladies and gentlemen, with tickets in their hands and watching eagerly the progress of the wheel on the stage. The committee to supervise the matter was elected by the audience, as follows:

Judges-W. W. Morris and Vene P. Armstrong.
Glerks-J. M. Vaughan and Harry Sommerville.

Many a witty remark was indulged by gentlemen in the audience as the drawing progressed, and the house was often convulsed with laughter. When it was announced that all but fifty tickets had been drawn, a little boy in the gallery, who, perhaps, had spent his hard-earned dollar for a ticket in the expectation of making a sudden "raise," became impatient, and called out, "if you don't draw me one I'll tell my mother on you." Tais convulsed the house, and it was some time before silence was restored and the drawing proceeded. When two or three numbers in the same thousand had been drawn a gentleman over in the corner, with ears spread and ticket in hand, would sing out, "Sh-a-a-a-a-ke her up." At one time a lady was heard to ejaculate, "Too bad," while "Grease the wheel," "That's it," "That's the one—no it ain't either," "Mighty long getting to my ticket," were frequent. One corpulent old gentleman, who sat directly in front, and had one ticket, which he watched with the greatest expectation for over nail the evening, suddenly dropped all holds, and, looking up to tolin Alfriend, gave vent to a long and fervent "A-men." He had drawn a prize. The eleven-thousands and five-thousands seemed to be the luckiest numbers. The audience remained scated and attentive till the clossoft the drawing, which was about eleven o'clock. A great many in this city held lucky tickets. The prizes will be distributed at Scott Glore's, commencing at nine o'citck this merning. Many a witty remark was indulged by gentle this morning. The Gen. Small Wages.

Jack Powers and wife last week were engaged in a peace warrant case with Jno. Childers. This morning they brought suit before Justice Doane, for pay due from Childers to Mrs. Powers for six months' services. A jury was summoned, the case tried and a verdict rendered, giving Mrs. P. the sum of fifty-two dollars for her six months' work. Little enough, one would think.

The Little Stray at Home.

The little girl picked up yesterday norning at Floyd street and Linden place, and left at First-street station, was taken home by her parents last evening. They live at the corner of Hancock and Chestthe little girl was found. And there was something more than joy in that house something more than joy in that house priest of St. Alban's in this city, has recently returned from Europe. During his stay in England he had an interesting instant with the distinguished Father Ig-

Black and White.

Black first, of course, as will be seen directly. Annie Wells is a colored woman, and her husband is as black as you will see in a thousand negroes. But the male Wells had some powers of fascination about him, by which he gained the affections, or fancy, of a white woman, living then to the ecclesiastical lurintuite of a down on Madison street, and she refused father has already introduced ceremo to let Mrs. Wells know anything about the in his temple which are not warranted by whereabouts of the dusky "lovyer," and the Scriptures or the Book of Commo even went so far as to shut the door in her face. Whereat Mrs. Wells applied to last Good Friday, for instance, the good Justice Stevens for a peace warrant father ascended and left the pulpit of his against her husband for abusing her. When the constable went to serve the writ, the male Wells was not to be found, the Diocese of New York will meet in this nor the white woman either, and the sup- this city, when, it is understood, the subposition is that they have gone off together ject is to be presented for the considera-1783 to a more tolerant locality.

A Family Relic.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, colored live in the "Marshalsea," on Marshal street, and they have for neighbors Alice Ambrose and her husband, and all the parties are negroes. Now, Mrs. Barrett's mother had bequeathed to her an old chair, which had een her support and joy for many years, and though valueless in itself, yet Mrs. B. valued it very highly because it had been her mother's. That veritable "old arm chair," which is still the theme of song. Now, also, Mrs. Ambrose took a fancy to par selling. the chair, and, borrowing it, refused to return it; consequently the two families came to loggerheads, called each other ugly names and all that sort of thing. The upshot of their quarrel was, that Alice Ambrose went before Justice Doane and sued out a peace warrant against Bar- prices are well maintained. Sales are rett and wife, and, to be even, Mrs. Barrett sued out a cross-warrant against Ambrose and husband. It being developed on this double trial that no threats had vails for bacon, and clear sides are selling been made on either side, both warrants were dismissed, and the chair remains as a hone of contention.
